REAL ESTATE DEAL IN WESTERLY

Eliminates Objectionable Stable Site and Gives Chance for Street Improvement—Prominent Men at Funeral of Hon. Warren O. Arnold—Strike at Woody Hill Quarry—Stray Bullet Believed to Have Been Fired by Motorist.

The section of property in Westerly almost in the center of the business section and just off Union, Broad and Main streets, in proximity to the town hall, fire house and Episcopal church, a large tract of land with buildings thereon, known as Crafts court, has changed ownership and will hereafter be known as Welch court. This property, formerly owned by Albert B. Crafts, has been purchased by James A. Welch, owner of the property, from the Baptist church in Broad street to the town hall in Union street, the barn and dwelling houses thereon being destroyed by fire, February 13 last.

This new purchase includes six tenement houses, one located in the part of Union street that is parallel with that part of Welch court which begins near Main street, and a large barn just south of the fire house. Mr. Welch has abandoned his plan to build a stable on the site of the one totally destroyed by fire, and has instead, the owner of the Dixon house property, the First Baptist church, and the people of Westerly generally.

While the place was desirable for Mr. Welch's business, it was too prominent a place in the business center for a public stable. This fact was appreciated by Mr. Welch. His purchase of the property was made in the knowledge that the preliminary work has been commenced for the enlargement of the large hall in the so-called Crafts court. This addition will extend directly back of the fire house, and the houses for drawing the fire apparatus will be even more convenient than before. The tenement houses now occupied by Mr. Welch's family will be renovated and remodeled, and the whole place improved.

Years ago there has been talk of cutting down the knoll of Union street, so-called, which, as a matter of fact, is the summit of two hills. One from Broad road and the other from Main street (and at the present time a committee of the board of trade has been organized to make a public improvement under consideration, thus relieving the congested condition of the street and for the general accommodation of pedestrians. The work could now be done at comparatively small expense to the town, as the greater amount of private property on the thoroughfare is owned by Mr. Welch, who is ready to do his full share towards making the change. The next individual property owner is Frank W. Coy, and he, too, favors the project. The only other private property to be affected is the Holt residence on the Broad street approach and Hibernian hall on the Main street approach, and these properties would be greatly improved should the change be made.

The town fire house would be given another story by the change and at small expense while the town hall is given but little consideration in the contemplated improvement, as that building is expected to be entirely inadequate for town purposes and a new hall is a necessity. Still, with the knoll cut down, the town hall could be utilized until a new building was substituted, the only changes being an extension of stairs to the main entrance and bringing the police station entrance on the street level.

As Mr. Welch has not yet commenced the construction of the apartment houses to take the place of the buildings burned on the Union street side of his property, the Cooke Hill knoll could be removed at less expense than heretofore, perhaps the opportunity to make this long talked improvement would never come again. Mr. Welch is having plans made for the building that is to front on Broad street, where his business office will be located as at present, the plans including obliteration of the stable driveway and a general improvement of Broad street.

With the exception of a slate roof in place of the wooden shingles and comparatively slight repairs to that section of the edifice nearest the Welch fire, the damage to the First Baptist church by reason of the fire has been repaired. The work in the interior of the church has been completed, and work on the exterior will soon be commenced. It is believed that the sum of $12,500, the amount agreed upon by the trustees and insurance adjusters, in settlement of the fire loss, will be sufficient to put the building in ever better condition than before the fire.

The Women's Baptist Foreign and Home Missionary society of the First Baptist church of Westerly, during the year past, has collected and paid the following sum of money: To the Rhode Island State Foreign Missions $1; to Women's Baptist Foreign Missionary Society $24.85; to Women's American Baptist Missionary Society $27.85; total $53.66.

At the Saturday afternoon session of the New England Southern conference of the Methodist Episcopal church in Attleboro, Attorney Samuel H. Davis of Westerly was the speaker at the anniversary of the temperance society. He was announced in the order of exercises as "Rev. S. H. Davis, D.D., of Boston, State Superintendent Massachusetts Anti-Saloon League."

Mr. Davis formerly held that office, prior to which he was pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church in Westerly. He resigned the Massachusetts office to engage in the practice of law in Westerly. He is a powerful, impressive and earnest speaker.

Many of the friends of the late Hon. Warren O. Arnold attended the funeral services in the main parlor of the Dixon house, Sunday afternoon, where Mr. Arnold has his home while in Westerly in connection with his part management with his brother, Senator Louis W. Arnold, of the Western woolen mills, retaining his residence in Chepachet. The services were according to the ritual of the Episcopal church and conducted by Rev. William F. Williams, rector of Christ church, at the conclusion of which Mrs. Olga Severino, cellist, of New York, rendered Schumann's Trauerlied.

Saturday noon a shot was fired through the window of Patrick Barrett's shoemaker shop in West Broad street. An automobile passed the time, and it is believed one of the occupants discharged a revolver at the sport, and there was a possibility of a realization of the possible result. The ball made a clean hole through the window pane and passed very near to Mr. Barrett, who was at work on his bench. Half an hour after the shot was fired this incident was reported to Officer Casey, too late to locate the offender.

The body will be taken to Chepachet for burial this (Monday) morning.

In the state senate, Friday, Senator Champlin of New Shoreham presented a resolution of sympathy with Senator Louis W. Arnold of Westerly in the death of his brother, Hon. Warren O. Arnold. The resolution was adopted by a rising vote, and the senate then adjourned.

Elisha W. Cross, formerly of Westerly, who served in the civil war in the first regiment from Rhode Island and later as lieutenant in a Rhode Island battery, died Sunday morning at his home in Wakefield. He is father of Harry P. Cross, assistant attorney general for Rhode Island.

In commemoration of the ninety-first anniversary of Odd Fellowship (April 26), special services were held Sunday evening in Broad street Christian church. Rev. John G. Dutton delivered an address and the members of Mistuxet encampment and Hope Rebekah lodge were present in a body.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends Saturday at the funeral of Mary E. widow of John Burke, a requiem high mass being celebrated in the Church of the Immaculate Conception. Rev. Peter McOscar officiating. Burial was in St. Michael's cemetery. The bearers were Leo Higgins, Michael Murphy, John Lynch, Michael Keegan, James Burke and Michael Murray.

Saturday noon a shot was fired through the window of Patrick Barrett's shoemaker shop in West Broad street. An automobile passed the time, and it is believed one of the occupants discharged a revolver at the sport, and there was a possibility of a realization of the possible result. The ball made a clean hole through the window pane and passed very near to Mr. Barrett, who was at work on his bench. The IRONCLAD ALARM

I was in a house last week where they had three nickel alarm clocks. One had lost its bell, the other its legs, the third was so clogged with dust it couldn't tell the truth. There should be one more alarm clock in that house and that's an IRONCLAD.—It's knockproof, it's dustproof, it rings to beat the band.

Crawford Ranges

"I have used several makes of ranges but consider the Crawford the best. It uses less coal and gives a more even heat than any range I ever saw."

The Single Damper (patented) affords the only perfect control of fire and oven.

The Oven has no "cold corners" nor "scorching spots," because of the cup-joint heat flues.

The Two Hods in the base, one for ashes instead of the old clumsy ash pan, and one for coal, is a wonderful trouble-saving idea.

Patented Grates. Ask the Crawford agent to show you. Write us for circular.
